

A million Reasons Why

Holding on my pillow tight
Are you gonna leave me high ?
Is there still a place for you and I ?
Know that I can take the blows
Never one to let it go
Am I gonna wake up on my own ?

Scratching off the rust along the tracks - nothing ever stays bright
I'm sorry for the million reasons why you wouldn't wanna stay
You wouldn't wanna stay

Won't you take us as we come ?
All the damage all the flaws
Will you let me in or let me fall ?
Can you blow the storms and doubts away ?
I'm sorry for the things I let astray
Remember what you fell for, why you cared

Scratching off the rust along the tracks - nothing ever stays bright
I'm sorry for the million reasons why you wouldn't wanna stay
You wouldn't wanna stay

Can't just wipe off all the walls we've built – they won't come down
Now my tears won't change a thing – you won't be coming home

Scratching off the rust along the tracks - nothing ever stays bright
I'm sorry for the million reasons why you wouldn't wanna stay
You wouldn't wanna stay
